Accept Draft Convention as Basis Disarmament Debate

BRITISH DELEGATE MAKES PROPOSAL AT ARMS CONFERENCE

IT WAS INDORSED BY UNITED STATES, FRANCE, GERMANY AND ITALY

Geneva, Feb. 24.—(UP)—The draft convention drawn by the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations was accepted by the principal powers today as a framework or basis for discussion in the work of the world arms conference.

The proposal was made by Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, at the first meeting of the general commission of the conference, held today. It was indorsed by the United States, France, Germany and Italy.

The convention contains some 60 articles, of which only 11, all dealing with the "method" of undertaking the problem of disarmament, have so far been accepted by the majority of the nations.

Simon supported the convention as a "framework" with full liberty for any delegation to present amendments and counter-propositions.

"We spent five years of strenuous work preparing the convention," he commented.

Andre Tardieu, of France, who conferred this morning with Rudolph Nodolny, of Germany, supported Simon. The French and Germans were understood to have reached a compromise before the meeting, under which the German disarmament plan will be considered as an amendment and not a counter-proposition.

Hugh Gibson, of the United States, also supported Simon, but added, "This does not imply that we accept the draft convention."

Maxim Litvinoff, of Russia, asked the commission first to vote on the Soviet proposal for complete disarmament.

"Let us get to work as soon as possible," he said.

Outsiders in the press section hissed and applauded when Tardieu jumped to his feet and replied:

"The draft convention must come first."

Nodolny announced Germany would accept the convention as a basis, despite her earlier rejection, provided the German proposals be considered and discussed on the same status. Italy also supported Simon.

Mrs. O'Brine Receives Word From Her Husband

St. Louis, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Forest O'Brine told police today that she had received a telephone call from her husband saying he was "all right." She said he did not reveal where he had been or where he was at the time he telephoned.

Mrs. O'Brine yesterday said the aviator had been "kidnaped" and then changed her story saying he might have gotten into an automobile.

She refused to see police saying she was "very sick."

Lieut. John Brandenburger, in charge of the investigation, predicted that O'Brine would put in his appearance soon. "Then O'Brine will have to tell us where he has been," Brandenburger said.

Mrs. Monney Arrives in N. Y. to Plead Son's Case

New York, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Mrs. Mary Monney, bright and chipper despite her 84 years, arrived in New York today to do her bit toward freeing her son, Tom Monney, who is serving a life term in San Quentin prison for the San Francisco bomb outrage.

Arriving on the Twentieth Century Limited, she refused to use the wheel chair that was waiting for her, but walked through Grand Central terminal, through a howling crowd of Monney sympathizers, to a taxicab that took her to her hotel.

Dickinson, N. D., Feb. 23.—(UP)—E. E. Taylor, Glendive, Mont., and Jack Stewart, Cody, Neb., today faced three year prison terms on charges of passing counterfeit travellers' checks. Sentence was pronounced yesterday. The men were convicted last Saturday.

Hoover's Choice

Seattle's "Jazz" Candidate Trails in Mayoralty Election

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Vic Meyers, whose antics as a mayoralty candidate kept Seattle laughing for weeks, saw himself running a poor sixth today in primary election returns and decided the city didn't vote as it had laughed.

John F. Dore, criminal attorney, and Mayor Robert H. Harlin appeared certain of the nominations on the basis of incomplete returns from yesterday's election.

Meyers ran on a platform containing such pledges as hostess on all streetcars and free cracked ice to early morning passengers. He formerly lived at Little Falls, Minn.

Father Mushes 100 Miles Thru Arctic Storm to Get Aid for Son

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 24.—(UP)—After battling the most bitter winter weather for three days in a 100-mile trip by dog team from Beren's River to Hodgson, Man., across the icy cold sweeps of Lake Winnipeg, R. Boulanger, Beren's River, arrived in the city Tuesday with his five-year-old son, John, who was mauled and badly bitten by a dog in the northern settlement last Thursday.

The lad, suffering severe pains from the bites inflicted by a crazed animal, was rushed to St. Boniface hospital immediately upon the arrival of the train from Hodgson.

The father, carrying his son in his arms, entered the hospital and told attendants a story of an almost seemingly hopeless trip across the frozen waters of Lake Winnipeg.

Last Thursday, when the Boulanger boy came running to his father and between sobs told the story of his encounter with the crazed dog, his father hurried to Red, Nedrie, missionary at Beren's River. The missionary, after giving the child first aid attention, told the parent that the child needed hospital attention to save his life.

Despite the bitterness of the weather, Boulanger decided to set out immediately by dog team for Hodgson, 100 miles across Lake Winnipeg. At Hodgson, he could take the train for Winnipeg. This was the only hope for the child's life.

Getting the dog team in readiness, Boulanger tucked the boy snugly away in a mass of blankets and tenting material, which he piled onto the sleigh. On the second day, a fierce storm swept across the lake.

Unable to make any headway, Boulanger let the dog team rest and busied himself with making temporary living quarters, which he did with the large stock of equipment which he carried. He was able to get out shortly afterward and arrived, sleepless, with his son's injuries growing more serious hourly at Hodgson, late Sunday, where he caught a train Tuesday morning.

A deep gash on the head and several smaller wounds on the child's body bore mute evidence of the ghastly attack which prompted Boulanger to make his heroic trip across the frozen lake.

2 MORE GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS FEEL AXE ECONOMY MOVE

CONGRESSIONAL ECONOMY PROGRAM LOPS OFF 22 MILLIONS FROM ESTIMATES

Washington, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Two more government departments felt the axe of congressional economy today. The house appropriations committee reported an annual supply bill for the treasury and post office departments $44,688,327 less than current appropriations.

A total appropriation of $1,159,898,563 is carried in the measure, $22,000,000 less than the budget estimates submitted by President Hoover. Of this amount, $805,586,575 is allocated to the post office and $254,311,988 to the treasury.

In addition to these annual appropriations recommended by the committee, the treasury and post office departments in the next fiscal year will expend $1,161,687,917 as "permanent and indefinite appropriation." This sum represents an increase of more than $118,000,000 over expenditures from these funds in the present fiscal year, largely accounted for by the war debt moratorium, increased interest on public debts and increased payments necessary for the treasury sinking fund.

Budget recommendations for expenses of the customs service were cut $350,000; coast guard funds were slashed $905,000 under the budget and more than $4,000,000 under appropriations for the current fiscal year.

Public health service appropriations were cut $186,000 below the budget, and the bureau of narcotics was allowed $83,528 less than current expenditures.

Major economies in the post office department were effected by $3,000,000 decrease under budget estimates for payments for mail transportation by railroads and messenger routes. This item as carried in the bill is $12,000,000 less than current appropriations.

Allowances for domestic air mail payments were decreased $1,000,000 under current appropriations, while slashes of $7,675,000 were effected in payments for clerks and employees in post offices; $3,000,000 for city delivery service; $1,550,000 for fees to special delivery messengers and a like amount for rural free delivery service.

FEDS SEIZE STILLS, TAKE 5 AND LARGE QUANTITY OF LIQUOR

RAID ALLEGED SOURCE OF RUM SUPPLY FOR MINNESOTA AND WISCONSIN

Somerset, Wis., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Former and present northwest dry chiefs pooled their forces in raids intended to dry up one of the principal sources of illicit liquor for Minnesota and Wisconsin and arrested five men, seized five stills and confiscated quantities of alleged liquor, it was announced today.

M. L. Harney, former northwest dry chief now in charge of the Chicago enforcement district, and Robert D. Ford, present head of the eighth enforcement district with headquarters in St. Paul, planned the raids.

Six prohibition agents from the Chicago district and about a dozen from St. Paul took part in the raids last night. Those arrested included men giving the names of Felix Cloutier, Walter Twombly, George Beyl, Edward Anderson and Fred De Lisle.

Agents said the stills averaged 150 gallons capacity. Approximately 2,500 gallons of mash and 1,300 gallons of moonshine whisky were seized.

FARMER - LABORITES MAY GIVE SUPPORT TO DEMO NOMINEE

REPORT PARTY MAY EXCHANGE PRESIDENTIAL SUPPORT FOR GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE

St. Paul, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Minnesota farmer-laborites may throw their strength to a democratic nominee for president in exchange for democratic endorsement of a farmer-labor gubernatorial candidate, it was said today.

Leaders of both parties were understood to favor such a trade. The exchange, however, was understood to be contingent on the nomination by the democrats of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Under the proposed alignment the democrats will not endorse candidates for state offices. The evenly contested struggle between Joseph Wolf of Staples and William Fitzgerald of Rochester for the post of democratic national committeeman will be decided at a party caucus Thursday night.

COMPLETE FRANKLIN JUNIOR HIGH WELL WITHIN MARCH 15

LOCAL PAINTING FIRM HAS CONTRACT; AUDITORIUM SCAFFOLDING TO BE REMOVED

The Franklin Junior High school will be completed well within the specified time of March 15 as agreed upon in the contract, it was apparent today.

The building will virtually be complete by March 1. The remaining 15 days will be devoted to completion of painting and finishing up odd jobs about the building.

The local firm of Dryburgh and Bacon has the painting work, giving employment to six men.

Workmen today were finishing up on interior trimming. All blackboards are in and the scaffolds will be taken down from the completed auditorium tomorrow. Plumbers are engaged in the final installation of fixtures.

Report $120,000,000 Federal Road Measure

Washington, Feb. 24.—(UP)—An unemployment relief measure authorizing a $120,000,000 appropriation for federal road construction was reported favorably today by the house roads committee.

The bill provides that the funds shall be made available immediately for apportionment to the states by the secretary of agriculture.

By United Press

Chinese today strengthened defenses in the middle sector of the Shanghai-Woosung battle front as Japanese awaited 25,000 reinforcements from Tokyo to launch a second offensive.

Chinese infantry attacked Japanese at Chapel, just outside international settlement, but positions were unchanged.

United States consul at Hangkow requested Chinese provincial troops for protection of six American missionaries endangered by bandits.

Japanese spokesmen at Tokyo said international intervention in China naturally was the implied suggestion in the Japanese statement not recognizing China as an organized people.

Organization of an independent Manchurian state continued at Mukden with selection of name "Daido," meaning great union.

Blast Jap Wharves

Copyright, 1932, by United Press
Shanghai, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Chinese artillery, mounted on railway trucks, bombarded the Japanese wharves in the international settlement tonight. The shelling was caused by reports that the Japanese were preparing to land reinforcements.

A Japanese air squadron dropped nine bombs tonight on the Lungtshu and Chenju railroad stations, damaging the platforms and destroying nearby cottages, although the railway was undamaged.

Chenju is due north of the settlement in the Kiangwan battle area. Lungtshu is in another direction, on the Whangpoo, a little southwest of the French concession.

Mayor Wu Teh-Chen of greater Shanghai, protested again tonight to Edwin S. Cunningham, United States consul-general, against landing of Japanese troops in the international settlement.

Wu disclaimed responsibility for foreign lives in the event Chinese defensive actions are necessary.

He suggested evacuation of foreigners from areas within the Japanese defense sector of the settlement which appeared to indicate that a real bombardment of that part of the settlement might be contemplated.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Secretary of State Stimson today announced to the world that the United States would stand by its "open door" policy in the Orient.

He also indirectly charged Japan with violating the nine power treaty and the Kellogg pact. Had these treaties been "faithfully observed" the present situation in China could not have developed, he maintained.

By the 1922 treaty the United States, Stimson pointed out, surrendered "its then commanding lead in battleship construction." It also agreed not to strengthen its naval bases at Guam and in the Philippines. These "self denying covenants," he pointed out, were made because of assurance that the open door policy in the far east would be preserved and that no nation would resort to "military aggrandizement" in China.

The Chinese legation was elated, particularly with sections reaffirming the United States contention that China must be allowed to work out its own destiny and its sovereignty respected.

Jap Boycott On in U. S.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(UP)—A private but seemingly widespread campaign to boycott Japanese goods in the United States has been brought to the state department's attention.

The campaign, conducted by unknown persons, is being carried on by chain letters appealing to Americans to support China in the far eastern quarrel and to exert economic pressure on Japan by refusing to buy its goods.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(UP)—French Ambassador Claudel today issued a statement asserting that the public action of France has demonstrated that his country is in full cooperation with the United States in the present far eastern crisis.

The ambassador denied rumors that France has any understanding with Japan or is supporting the latter's policy and expressed concern over "serious repercussions" they might have.

TWO-TO-ONE LEAVENER TWO-TO-ONE LEAVENER

2/3 of its work should be done before the bake goes in the oven to do while you're mixing your dough!

THE biggest part of the work you expect from your baking powder should be done by the time you put your dough in the oven. For the success of baking depends on the leavening that takes place in the mixing.

Baking experts and scientists know that exactly two-thirds of the leavening should occur in the mixing. That's the reason why 52 exhaustive laboratory tests are made in the manufacture of Rumford—to make certain that Rumford's leavening always takes place in the perfect proportion of two-thirds in the mixing to one-third in the oven.

Two-to-one leavening assures cakes and hot breads that are light and even-textured, in a word —perfect. And you can get two-to-one leavening only with a pure all-phosphate baking powder such as Rumford.

You owe it to your family to give them the benefit of Rumford's healthful content of Calcium and Phosphates. Get Rumford today from your grocer.

chase of two packages of Kellogg's Whole Wheat Biscuit. The biscuits will be sold as part of Dollar Day combinations.

The Kellogg Singing Lady is one of the more popular child radio features coming over the air every evening at the supper hour. The program is offered by W. K. Kellogg in the interest of the children and kindergarten teachers throughout the country.

The Book of Fairy Tales as told by the Singing Lady includes some of the more popular fairy tales and the stories therein were selected through popularity by a vote taken among five hundred kindergarten teachers.

It is estimated there are 7,000,000 children in New York State.

U. OF M. INSTRUCTOR HERE FOR SESSIONS

Mrs. Rebecca Nelson, instructor of the University of Minnesota adult

"Physical Development of the Child" will be Mrs. Nelson's topic Friday morning.

A new metal, which has been inis in use by the Admiralty.

Every adult human being inhales about 35 pounds of air daily.

NEW YORK SUSPECT WHO HID NEAR HERE ARRESTED IN SOUTH

New York police authorities today notified Sheriff Frank Little that Augustine Kelly, who skipped the Brainerd area before his whereabouts were learned, had been arrested at Jackson, Mo., and they would ask extradition papers to New York to answer a complaint of embezzlement of $5,500.

Little was informed by New York city's Chief of Detectives John O'Brien recently that Kelly was believed in hiding at the home of his uncle, a farmer residing near Pequot. Investigating, Little learned that the man had left the farm house more than two months ago after being in hiding there during the months of October and November.

Educational Display of Watches, Clocks in Lundborg's Window

A display of misused, rusted and old watches as they appear after repairing features the show window of the Lundborg Jewelry store, 614 Laurel street.

In addition the display shows the amount of parts in a watch or clock and gives the public a clear conception of the construction of a time-piece.

Tools used in repair work form a background. The exhibit was arranged by S. Lundborg and Carl O. Peterson in observance of national watch and jewelry repair week.

Work Progresses on Earl Hudson Home

Merrifield—Mrs. Edward Cross, Mrs. Clayton Hollingsworth, and Mrs. V. H. Keller called on Mrs. A. Groves Monday.

The Carl Hudson house on Sorenson lake is progressing nicely. A number of Merrifield folks attended the farm bureau meeting at the Faupel home in Center. An interesting Washington program was given. A delicious dinner was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Keller visited at the E. W. Johnson home in Pequot Sunday.

Mike Gorden is home in Merrifield over Sunday and Monday with his family.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY ABLE PERFORMANCE

"The Goose Hangs High" was ably presented last evening in the high school auditorium by members of the junior class.

The custom of staging a junior class play is still in its infancy and does not draw the crowd the senior play does, but last night's audience, though small, was appreciative.

Some members of the cast made their stage debut in "The Goose Hangs High," and soon were recognized as material for the senior play next year. Those who have appeared formerly in speaking parts again showed ability at handling difficult parts. The success of the play was largely made possible by the wholehearted cooperation of the coaches with the players. Miss Mildred O'Brien and Miss Lucille Walkup, of the high school faculty, acted as coaches.

Those who appeared in the play were: Alice Rochford, Robert Ebert, Robert Jackson, Virginia Wilson, Howard Zander, Frances Reese, Elizabeth Patterson, Cyril DeRosier, Alyce Little, Richard Rice, Gerald Olson, Sanford Shanks and Mary Hoffman.

BUYERS TO PROFIT THROUGH DOLLAR DAY SALES HERE

SELLING EVENTS TO SURPASS ALL FORMER BOUNDS IN BARGAINS

CITY STORES TO ATTRACT SHOPPERS FROM TRADE AREA 40 MILES RADIUS

Dollar Days in Brainerd this year should mean more to shoppers than at any previous cooperative selling event.

Two score of this city's leading merchants have joined in presenting to the public in this district two days of genuine sales, giving the dollar a greater buying range than it has experienced for many years.

People to Crowd City

Farmers in a territory of many miles in this trade area, residents of towns and villages in the large district, will join with Brainerd citizens in celebrating Dollar Day sales, Thursday and Friday.

Articles for Every Need

Stores will feature articles of widespread nature. Examination of the advertisements in this newspaper tonight and Thursday will convince the conservative buyer of bargains he or she cannot afford to pass by.

The Dollar Day sales will prove a great agency in chasing the dollar out of hiding, place it in circulation at a time when everyone will be benefited.

Gets Widespread Distribution

Every home in Brainerd received this newspaper today while all towns and villages within a 40 mile radius were canvassed. Country residents will receive copies of the newspaper early tomorrow morning.

"CHICK REARING" IS THEME OF POULTRY MEETINGS IN COUNTY

The Dykeman Poultry club met Friday and received their first instructions on "Chick Rearing." The lesson was taught by their two leaders, Mrs. T. G. Dykeman and Mrs. Clayton Dykeman. One of the members reported that in order to make hens lay, keep them shut in till noon with plenty of laying mash, then give them a small amount of scratch feed. This rule being applied during the summer season. Another member of the group thought it very essential to give Walko tablets to incubator chicks.

Long Lake Poultry group met last week and on account of bad weather six members were absent. Their first lesson on "Chick Rearing" was taught by their two leaders, Mrs. H. J. Hughey and Mrs. Oscar Hauggorde.

The Miller Lake Poultry club met last week with all members attending. The first lesson of "Chick Rearing" was taught by their two leaders, Mrs. P. A. Anderson and Miss Ada Wunderlich. Two sanitation plans were the home demonstrations started. The chick feeder was a success from start to finish and was presented to the hostess.

Hay Creek Poultry club of St. Mathias met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Gravell last week. On account of bad roads, all members were not present. The meeting was opened by the leader, Mrs. A. F. Claus, and the following officers were elected:

Chairman—Mrs. Martin Tautges.
Secretary—Mrs. G. Koering.
Publicity—Mrs. Wm. Gravell.
Leaders—Mrs. A. F. Claus, Mrs. John Tautges.

The lesson began on "Chick Rearing" and was taught by their leader, Mrs. A. F. Claus. A chick feeder was made by her, everyone enjoyed the lesson, and they think the poultry project will be a great help to all.

Besides the elephant, ivory comes from the teeth of hippopotamus, walrus, narwhal, cachalot or sperm-whale, and some of the wild boars.

The three Democratic senators who selected their party's 1932 campaign slogan of "Hee Haw! We're Coming Back" from thousands submitted in a prize contest are shown here. They are, left to right: Royal S. Copeland of New York, Morris Sheppard of Texas and C. C. Bill of Washington. J. J. Stubbs of Robstown, Tex., submitted the winning slogan for which he received $100.

Here Are 20 Different Brands .. but the Coffee Inside is the SAME in All

That's Why Changing Brands in the Past Has Not Made the Coffee You Serve Any Better

Here Is One Coffee That IS Different—Grown In a Different Producing Country Where Nature Gives It Twice the Richness and Flavor

ARE you changing from brand to brand, trying to find the kind of coffee that "makes" a meal?

There's a peculiar reason for so many coffee disappointments. It lies in a simple fact about coffee that scarcely one woman in 50 knows.

Here it is:

Almost 70 per cent of all coffee you get in stores today is actually one common kind. It's grown in the same producing country. And has exactly the same kind of taste. Though it's sold under all different kinds of "brands" and in different packages.

That's why you must do more than change brands if you want better coffee.

Try An Entirely Different Kind of Coffee

From certain tiny mountain districts along the West Coast of Central America, we procure coffees entirely different in flavor and richness.

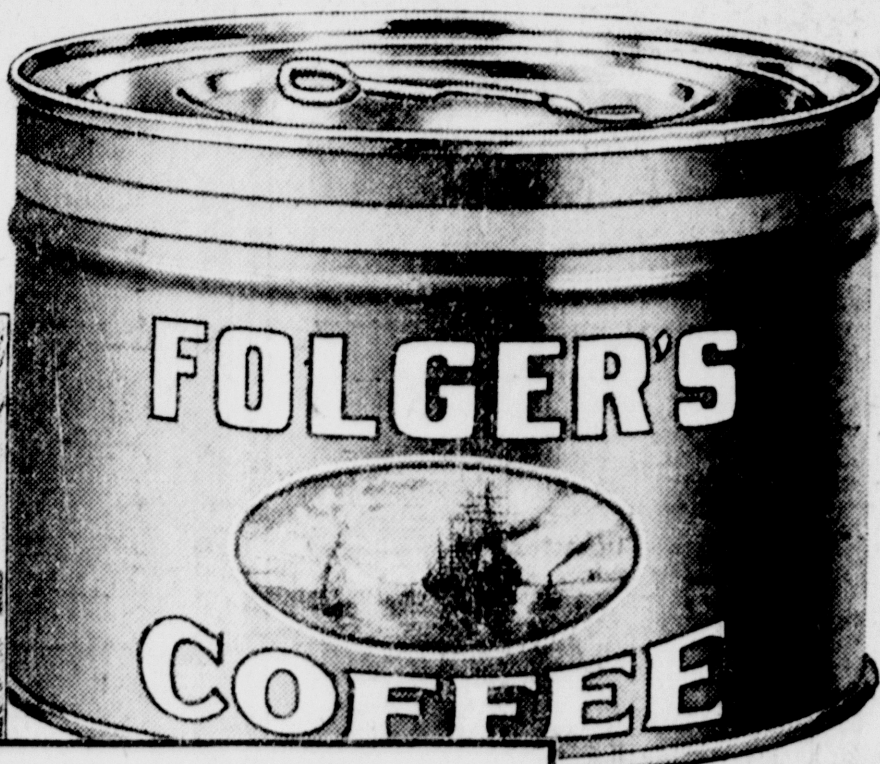

Rich volcanic soil, brilliant mountain sunlight, steaming tropic rains give these coffees a rare tang and full body, unduplicated, experts concede, by any other region in the world.

These are the rare coffees, different from any you have ever tasted, that you get in Folger's.

To let you taste them without delay. To quickly settle any doubts, we make this unique suggestion.

3 Days' Test—At Our Risk

Go to your grocer today. Buy a pound of Folger's Coffee. Drink it tomorrow morning. Next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then decide which you like best. If you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money.

But if you do as 8 in 10 people do, however, you'll never go back to less flavorful coffees.

Britain to Cooperate

London, Feb. 23.—(U.P.)—Great Britain's far east policy will be to cooperate with the United States and the League of Nations in whatever action may be agreed upon, according to Sir John Simon, foreign secretary. Simon presented Great Britain's official stand in a statement last night before the house of commons. He said England is convinced that "affirmation of the principles of the League of Nations with boldness and sincerity" is essential to a solution of the Sino-Japanese question.

More than 7,000,000 men and women served under the British flag during the war. Of this number 4,500,000 are still living.

ARRANGEMENTS NEARLY COMPLETE FOR DISTRICT CAGE MEET

REFEREES SELECTED FOR BRAINERD AND STAPLES TOURNEYS

CLASS B OPENS TOMORROW; PAIRINGS IN CLASS B VIRTUALLY FIXED

Officials for the Class B and Class A tournaments at Staples and Brainerd, respectively, were announced today while arrangements were near complete for the placing of teams in both tournaments.

The Class B tourney will open at Staples tomorrow, continuing until the championship Saturday night. Warren Kasch, athletic director at St. Cloud Tech-High and former Brainerd coach, and Dr. "Bee" Lawlee of Hibbing will referee the Staples tourney.

Frank Cleve of Concordia College, Moorhead, and Newgard, Willmar, will referee the Class A tourney here starting March 3.

The Class B entries will line up as follows in the Staples tourney tomorrow:

4 p. m.—Pine River vs. Sebeka.
7 p. m.—Pequot vs. Motley.
8 p. m.—Menasha vs. New York Mills.

9 p. m.—Backus vs. Verdale.

Winners of the first two games and winners of the second two games will meet in the semi-finals Friday evening. The finals will be played Saturday at 8:30 p. m., preceded by the consolation game at 7:30 p. m.

First and second place winners in the B tourney will be entered in the Brainerd tournament.

The result of the Brainerd-Crosby game Friday night will determine Brainerd's opening opponent in the district meet. If Brainerd wins, the Warriors will meet the winners of the Class B tourney. If the team loses to Crosby, Aitkin will be its opening competition and Staples will meet the Class B winner. Otherwise Staples will play Aitkin.

Crosby-Ironton will play the runner up to the Class B championship in its first game.

Crosby-Ironton will meet Wadena in its opening game and Little Falls will play the runner up in the class B tourney. Brainerd will either play Aitkin or the Class B winner and the same will apply to Staples. Two afternoon and two evening games will be played in the first round of the district tournament here Thursday, March 3. Eliminating upsets, Crosby-Ironton will play Little Falls and Brainerd will meet Staples in the semi-finals Friday night. The championship will be played Saturday night, March 5.

Pine River and Pequot are favorites to finish first and second in the Class B tournament and to represent the smaller schools in the main tournament.

STUDENT PAPER AT U. M. CAMPUS MOVES TO RETAIN CRISLER

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 24.—(UP)—The Minnesota Daily, student newspaper at the Gopher institution, in a front page editorial today demanded that "vacillating officials of the country's third largest university" meet the "market price" to keep Herbert O. Crisler here as athletic director.

Crisler was in Chicago where he refused to confirm reports he was conferring regarding an offer to take over the head coaching job at the New Jersey institution.

The editorial argued that if the job of athletic director is "a big business position" then the university must pay a price as high or higher than the salary of any dean. Crisler, who came here two years ago from the University of Chicago where he assisted Alonzo A. Stagg, was praised in the editorial for developing a comprehensive administration intercollegiate athletic, for building up a program of intermural supervision and for establishing the confidence of the students, faculty, alumni and general public in the university's athletic department.

The editorial concluded with the statement that Crisler as athletic director "was not given a fair deal" and said the administration's attitude was marked by "lack of will and backbone."

Dempsey Trims Wine to Set Another Attendance Mark

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey added another attendance record to his exhibition tour today as a result of his 4-round bout with Frankie Wine, Butte, Mont., last night.

Dempsey won easily before a crowd of almost 15,000, largest in Louisville ring history. Wine clinched through-out the last two rounds. The gate receipts were estimated at $14,400, with Dempsey's end about $6,500.

Dempsey was scheduled to appear before the legislature at Frankfort, Ky., today in the interest of a boxing bill.

Schaaf Quoted Favorite Over Young Stribling

Chicago, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, was quoted a 7-5 favorite today over W. L. (Young) Stribling of Georgia for their 10-round bout in the Chicago stadium Friday night.

HARD FOUGHT GAMES FORM CAGE CARD ON LOCAL GYM TONIGHT

Brainerd fans will see in addition to the headliner cage attraction between the Brainerd Merchants and the Princeton Independents at the high school gym tonight a speedy basketball game between the Evangelicals and the DeMolays.

The preliminary game, starting at 7:15 o'clock, will find two lighter teams in action who have had successful seasons in their divisions.

The Evangelicals hold 12 victories out of 15 starts so far this season. They recently won two out of a three game season with the Swanville quintet, winning their last game 33-29 at the St. Francis gym in Little Falls.

In the main event at 8:15 p. m. the Brainerd Merchants will battle an aggregation of players strong in all departments of the sport.

Dick Hall, F. Young and Joe Smith have a reputation of bombarding all opposition with telling effects.

The Merchants close their season tonight and are determined to grab a victory even if it will tax their strength to the utmost.

The games will be the last on the local gym until the start of the district high school tournament March 3.

WRIGHT AGREES TO TERMS; LARY SIGNS AT YANKEE FIGURES

Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Glenn Wright, Brooklyn Dodgers' captain and shortstop, has entered the fold. He signed up last night after a lead off first.

Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Daddy Vance, veteran right hand pitcher, signed his 1932 contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers today. Terms of the contract were not announced, but baseball writers here believe it calls for $15,000.

This would be a reduction of $8,000 from his last year's salary. Vance's salary was $25,000 in 1930 and cut to $22,000 or $23,000 last year. Vance won 11 games last season and lost 13. His record for 1930 was 17 and 15.

Manager Max Carey effected the agreement with Vance today. Vance put on is uniform and took part in the day's practice.

confering with Manager Max Carey. Terms of the contract were not announced, but it is reported he accepted a cut. Last year his salary was $18,000.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Lyn Lary, New York Yankees shortstop, has cast aside his golfing togs and donned his baseball suit. He signed his 1932 contract yesterday, putting an end to reports he planned to hold out for an increase.

Los Angeles, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants figures the Brooklyn Dodgers will finish fourth in the National league pennant race this year, despite complete reorganization of the Brooklyn club. McGraw arrived yesterday to direct spring training which had been in the hands of Dave Bancroft.

Avalon, Catalina Island, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Manager Rogers Hornsby is concentrating on fast base running in workouts of his Chicago Cub rookies.

He admittedly was delighted yesterday with the excellent showing made by young Stanley Hack who showed more speed than anyone else in camp, and has the natural knack of taking a lead off first.

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Waite Hoyt, veteran pitcher released unconditionally by the Philadelphia Athletics, is expected to join the Athletics or Brooklyn Dodgers within the week, for an attempted come-back. Lefty Grove and Rube Walberg still are important holdouts.

Biloxi, Miss., Feb. 24.—(UP)—Eddie Ainsmith, one time battery mate of Walter Johnson, has arrived in camp to assist Johnson in coaching the Nationals. Yesterday's workout was short, comprising the usual volley ball and pepper games.

'WE'LL TAKE CROSBY' IS FIGHTING SPIRIT OF B. H. S. WARRIORS

While the Brainerd high school team is generally considered by fans as the underdog in the game with Crosby-Ironton on the range floor Friday night, the Brainerd players will not concede victory and will enter the fray with a determination to win.

"We're going to take Crosby," was the expression of Brainerd players today.

The boys are not boasting. They are not overconfident. They are chiefly determined to give their best efforts and doing that they believe they can win. The game will be the final before the opening of the district cage tournament here March 3.

Winning its 16th basketball game of the season, Staples defeated Little Falls, 30 to 20, at Staples last night.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—(UP)—The reorganized Chicago White Sox, with a new manager and a new owner, departed today for preliminary spring training at Mineral Wells, Tex. Twelve players, headed by Manager Lew Fonseca and Owner J. Louis Comiskey, left shortly before noon for the south. Others will join the party en route. After a week's work at Mineral Wells, the Sox will go to their training camp at San Antonio, Tex.

GROOM HUSKIES FOR LAST 41-MILE LAP

Quebec, Feb. 24.—(UP)—Two Manitoba mushers were prepared to battle it out today for victory in the annual Quebec dog sled derby, as they harnessed their huskies for the grueling last 41-mile alp of the three-day race.

Emil St. Goddard made an advantage of 7 minutes, seven seconds over his fellow Manitoban, Shorty Russick. He finished yesterday's run with a total elapsed time of 7:00:32. Russick had 7:07:39.

Lonahardt Seppala, hero of the dash to Nome, was third with 7:11:49. George Girard of Quebec came fourth with 6:3:50.

A CITY MANAGER RECORD--

Contrast the excellent financial condition of Cincinnati with Chicago's desperate fight to avoid bankruptcy and you have a vivid picture of the efficacy of the city manager form of government. It has not been so many years ago that Cincinnati, much like Chicago today, was harassed by a politically ruled city which means graft, high taxation and inadequate improvements.

Conditions in Cincinnati in those dark years brought about the establishment of the city manager form of government. Far-sighted men of both political parties banded together to bring the city manager plan to realization and it was due to their efforts that Cincinnati today enjoys its present high place in the list of American cities.

Cincinnati has compiled an unusual record under the manager form. Figures testifying to this fact are herewith given by the Cincinnati correspondent of the New York Times:

The city has reduced its net bonded indebtedness $1,740,000 although it has been rebuilt with new streets, boulevards, sewers, viaducts, public buildings and playgrounds; it has reduced the tax rate appreciably in spite of many added city services and the addition of new municipal departments; it has kept out criminal gangs and is remarkably free from organized crime; it leads other cities in handling the unemployment problem—President Hoover's Federal committee on emergency relief adopted the "Cincinnati Plan," as a standard for the United States; it has the lowest fire loss record of any large city in the country; it has lowered water rates, saving consumers $200,000 annually; it has lower electric light rates, saving consumers $750,000 annually; the City Council has passed an ordinance lowering the gas rate which when in effect will save consumers $1,750,000; it has built two incinerators and now collects the garbage, formally done by private contract. Many other minor improvements also have been made.

Consider this with the rotten political management of Chicago.

It paid its business manager, Colonel Clarence O. Sherill, a salary of $25,000. He resigned July 30, 1930, to accept the position of vice president of chain grocery stores at $40,000. His successor is Clarence A. Dykstra of Los Angeles, who has been maintaining the good business record.

It is a matter of wonderment that more cities do not adopt the manager plan, in force in all big and successful corporations. One of the fine results in Cincinnati is that it has developed a better citizenship in municipal affairs, and the retirement of the political grafters.

Editor's note: The Daily Dispatch welcomes opinions from its readers on the city manager form of government. It believes that an "open forum" on this subject will be both interesting and enlightening.

THE SINO-JAP SITUATION--

Trying to understand the ins and outs of the military situation around Shanghai is a bit difficult for Americans whose nearest approach to China has been a dish of chop-suey in some Chinese-American restaurant.

It's a lot easier to get things straight if we transpose the whole thing to the United States.

Imagine that Shanghai is New York City, and that some European power—England, say, just for the sake of the illustration—occupies the position of Japan, while America plays the part of China.

All along the wharves of New York's waterfront lies hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of British goods which New York merchants won't accept and New York customers wouldn't buy if they did. Angered at this boycott, the British have sent a powerful fleet which lies in New York harbor ready to act.

All of New England, meanwhile, has been seized by the British army, and mayors and governors have been put into office who will support the British power.

Manhattan Island is a foreign concession, ruled jointly by the French, English, Italian and Russian consuls, each backed by a capable military force. The English cannot well co-operate there, but they can seize Brooklyn and Jersey City and thus get control of the New York area. So they shell these two points and land marines and sailors to "mop up" in Brooklyn. Unexpectedly, strong New York national guard detachments, aided by troops from Washington, stand them off.

While all of this happens, a flotilla of British destroyers steam up the Hudson and shells Albany; and England proposes that European powers unite to seize Providence, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and Charleston and demilitarize them.

To make the picture complete, imagine that most of the state governors and many of the mayors of the larger cities are practically independent, each maintaining his own army and running things with little control from Washington.

Get that picture in your mind, and you have a fair idea of what is happening in China.

BUSSES AND RAILROADS--

The way in which the auto can cut into railroad passenger traffic was never so strikingly illustrated as in a petition which the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad recently filed with Ohio authorities, asking permission to discontinue all its intrastate passenger service in Ohio.

Passenger service, said the petition, has dropped far below the level at which trains can operate profitably. In 1920, the Wheeling and Lake Erie carried 1,209,213 passengers in Ohio. In 1930 it carried only 70,563.

Most railroads, of course, have not suffered that severely. But the illustration shows what can happen in a thickly populated state where there is a network of good public highways.

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, a salesgirl in Barclay's Department Store, lives with her mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her elder sister, MYRA, and her young brother, MIKE. Molly foolishly spends money saved to pay the rent STEVEN BARCLAY, a man of 37 and Ellen's employer, lends her an evening dress so she can secure a job dancing nights at DREAMLAND.

At the dance hall she meets handsome LARRY HARROWGATE, an artist, and accepts his invitation to tea next day. Barclay sends her roses. Distressed that the gift is not from Larry, Ellen quarrels with her mother and sister, who openly favor the wealthy Barclay. Myra shows her a newspaper announcement of Larry's engagement to ELIZABETH BOWEN, a debutante. Broken-hearted, Ellen breaks her tea date with him. She also returns the dress to Barclay and is disturbed to see that he has no intention of dropping their friendship.

Still heart sick over Larry she returns the next night to Dreamland.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER X

ELLEN knocked at the door of Steven Barclay's office at five minutes past one. Under her arm, carefully wrapped in tissue paper, was the ivory taffeta dress. There had been time enough, after all, for her to pick up the borrowed dress before going on to the store.

That morning in the basement had been no worse than any summer morning. But it had seemed to Ellen that the morning would never end, had seemed to her that before the slow hands of the clock dragged to 1 o'clock she would be dead of suffocation. The morning had ended; she was not dead, even though she felt that there was no particular reason for continuing to live. Life was tiresome and stupid and unfair.

She tried to convince herself that Larry had been only a casual infatuation but she could not forget how different the morning would have been if only she had not read a newspaper clipping, if only the day could have gone as she had dreamed it would. Even the fact that she was calling on the "big boss," that he had sent her flowers things which only the day before would have left her trembling with excitement, seemed dull and unimportant and completely colorless.

She knocked again. Barclay's secretary, Ruth Tevis, a plain girl whose plainness was heightened by heavy eye-glasses, opened the door.

"Mr. Barclay had to go out for a minute," she said, peering over the tortoise shell frames of her spectacles. "He told me to ask you to wait if you will."

When Ellen was seated in the dim, cool office with the dress over her lap, the secretary began fussing unnecessarily and a trifle offensively with the flowers on the rosewood desk, rearranging them, plucking a leaf here and there and sliding the slender crystal vases an inch nearer the center. She moved a pile of typed letters, awaiting Barclay's signature, to the left of the desk, then back to the right again.

"You were here yesterday, weren't you?" she asked casually.

"Yes," Ellen replied.

She wished the other girl wouldn't stare so. The steady, nearsighted regard of those pale eyes was making her uneasy and nervous, unsure of herself. Ruth Tevis cleared her throat and opened her mouth—to ask another question, Ellen was sure—just as Steven entered.

He said impersonally to Ellen, "I'm sorry I kept you waiting, Miss Rossiter."

And to the secretary, "I'll call you if I need you, Miss Tevis."

"I'm sorry I kept you waiting, Miss Rossiter," Barclay said.

HIS words were a dismissal. With a dissatisfied glance at Ellen, Miss Tevis turned and went into her own office. As if by accident she managed to leave the adjoining door a trifle ajar but Barclay rose and closed it.

"Miss Tevis, I'm afraid," he remarked with a twinkle in his eye and an entire change of manner, "is beginning to be curious."

Ellen went directly to the point. She was, to tell the truth, vaguely disturbed. The secretary's attitude had been in a small way served to confirm her mother's pleased insistence, her own secret fears of the morning. It was possible, it was more possible that Barclay's interest in her was more than friendly. Certainly there had been a note of intimacy in his voice after the door had closed, a light intimation that both of them were in league to defeat the secretary's curiosity.

She intended to avoid complications of that sort.

"I've brought back the dress," she began, as she leaned forward and laid the box on his desk. "I can't tell you how much I appreciated using it. And the flowers were lovely. They've made our apartment into a florist shop. I've never seen lovelier ones."

"Did you like them?" Barclay exclaimed, deeply pleased and missing entirely her subtle, gracious air of withdrawal. "I hope they didn't wake you when they arrived this morning. But I was determined you should have them before you left for the store."

He was like a young boy, aching, wistfully anxious for praise at his cleverness. Ellen did not stint her praise. It was absurd she thought, even as she thanked him, that she could give a man like Steven Barclay such pleasure.

He was looking down at the dress.

"Of course."

It was impossible for a Rossiter to be tepid. Ellen saw with dismay that he had misinterpreted her instinctive graciousness. Worse than that, she was harried by fear that he might think she was coquetting with him, refusing a first invitation so that he would more thoroughly appreciate her acceptance of a second. And she must accept the second one. She had promised. As she rose, feeling helpless and uncertain, he spoke again.

"I've thought a lot about that young brother, Mike. How is he?"

"Just as usual," Ellen smiled. "He woke me this morning by dropping his kitten on my face."

"I'd like to meet him sometime—and your mother."

"You must—sometime."

She left his office in a disturbed frame of mind. She was no calmer when she observed that Ruth Tevis opened the door of the adjoining office and stared after her as she hurried to the elevator. If only Steven Barclay were less kind, if only he were a different sort of man from the generous and natural person he was, how easily she could solve that particular problem. How could she snub a man from whom she had accepted favors, a man whom she was determined not to hurt unless hurting him was the only way out?

Ellen went to a movie that afternoon.

She sat through two presentations of the same silly, sentimental picture but afterward she remembered nothing of the film except that the hero turned his head sometimes in a way reminding her of Larry Harrowgate. There was, unfortunately for her peace of mind, an illuminated clock visible to the audience. She watched the clock instead of the picture.

As the hands came closer and closer to 4, the hour she was to have met Larry for tea, she found that it took all her resolution to keep from walking out of the theater and hastening to the hotel where she had promised to meet him.

FOUR-FIFTEEN. Larry would be wondering where she was, why she didn't come. Perhaps if she went, if she were very cold, it would be all right. Surely just to sit chatting with him for a short while would be all right. Perhaps he meant to tell her that the engagement was broken.

At 10 minutes to 5 she surrendered. At 10 minutes to 5 a small section of the matinee audience was treated to the spectacle of a young girl who jumped hastily from her seat and ran up the long shadowy aisle toward the street.

Ellen entered the lobby of the Hotel Vandeventer at 5 o'clock. Her breath was coming quickly; her cheeks were crimson banners. She hesitated before she plunged into Peacock Alley. It was not too late yet to retreat with her pride. But her pride was gone and she knew it.

Larry was not there. By the time she had made one hurried passage through the brilliant, mirrored alley she had assured herself of that. She assured herself of something else as well. She was glad, glad, glad! Glad that kind fate had taken him off before her folly had come to its consummation.

After she had eaten a solitary dinner she felt considerably better. A girl of 20 finds it hard to maintain a mood of black depression. But when she reached Dreamland for the beginning of her second evening there she felt the black mood returning. How could she bear to dance again in the arms of another man where she had danced and laughed with Larry?

Thoughts for Lent

"Come Unto Me All Ye That Labor and Are Heavy Laden"

(Read Matthew 11:28-30.)

Not always does God in Christ come to us. More often He bids us come to Him. The Light must be followed and sought after when to receive inactively would lead to spiritual self-indulgence. Thus, Christ says to us who are capable of action that no matter how weary we are we must use our last remaining bit of strength in taking steps toward Him. Christ goes the full distance in seeking and saving those who cannot move toward Him; but no so far as we are able to go. He requires us to do so. Thus we are saved from becoming religious paupers. So long, therefore, as we have any strength at all, we must take up Christ's yoke and go after Him.

Prayer: O Master who dost summon us in our weakness, and who callest us to walk with Thee even when our feet are tired, may Thy spirit so empower our wills that we may be strong to obey Thy call. Help us to take Thy yoke upon us and to learn of Thee, that as we enter Thy service we may know that Thy yoke is easy and Thy burden is light. Amen.

Carleton Head Added to Petition Far East Crisis

New York, Feb. 23.—(U.P.)—The name of Donald J. Cowling, president of Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., today was added with 270 others to a petition urging economic measures to prevent war in the far east.

The petition was submitted to President Hoover and congress last week by President Lawrence Lowell of Harvard. Cowling was formerly president of the Association of American Colleges. Dean Guy Stanton Ford, acting president of the University of Minnesota, was one of the original signers of the petition.

CANT HOLD CHILD FOR BOARD BILL

Montreal—Holding a child as hostage until a board bill is paid is all wrong, Mr. Justice Boyer in Practice Court here has ruled.

The case came up when Joseph Cleroux was hauled into court and asked to show cause why he was holding the baby girl of James Patrick Lapierre. Cleroux contended that Lapierre owed him $45 for boarding the baby for 16 months and that he was holding the child until the bill was paid.

Parents of the child admitted giving the child Cleroux to board and that he had refused to give their baby back to them when they had called for it.

Fairmont, Minn., Feb. 23.—(U.P.)—A petition asking that the federal farm board turn over "hearded wheat" to the American Red Cross for use in the stricken areas of Minnesota and the Dakotas was formulated today by the Fairmont Civic and Commerce association.

The petition was the result of a resolution addressed to congress and President Hoover. Thousands of head of livestock in western Minnesota are suffering from lack of feed. Drought and grasshoppers cut down last year's crop and farmers have had to ask aid in getting through the winter.

STATE FARMERS PLANTED MORE ACRES IN 1931 THAN IN 1929, TROVATTEN SAYS

Farmers of Minnesota planted nearly four per cent more acres in 1931 than in 1929, R. A. Trovatten, Minnesota agriculture, dairy and food commissioner, revealed today with the issuance of the 1931 farm census.

The census was gathered by the United States department of agriculture in cooperation with the Minnesota agriculture, dairy and food department. Paul H. Kirk, senior statistician, compiled the figures.

The census, Trovatten said, is taken biennially and therefore necessitates comparisons with the 1929 figures.

The total acreage for major crops in 1931 was 17,853,654 acres as compared to 17,255,137 acres for 1929.

There was a slight variation in number of farms, the commissioner said, there being 174,327 listed in 1931 against 175,056 in 1929. Of this number, 69.2 were reported by owners as compared with 70.8 per cent in 1929.

The wide number and variations of crops, Trovatten said, would indicate the fact that Minnesota is becoming a state of diversified rather than grain farming. All wheat in 1931 had a planted area of 1,188,345 acres and the crop is fourth in principal crops planted.

Otter Tail county with 6,336 farms reported had the greatest number of farms in the state. Otter Tail's 1,028,373 acres also put it at the top as the county having the largest number of a crew in farms. St. Louis is second in farms with 4,745, while in farm acreage Stearns is second with 761,306 acres.

Hennepin county reported 3,213 farms totalling 231,837 acres. Ramsey county had 606 farms for a total of 36,290 acres.

1931 HIGHWAY COSTS HIT NEW LOW MARK

STATE GOT NEEDED ROADS AT BARGAIN PRICES, GAVE JOBS
TO MANY, BARCOCK SAYS

It was good business for Minnesota to expand its highway construction program in 1931, to judge by figures given out by C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways. Unit prices on every class of construction were substantially lower than in 1930 and previous years. Average prices on some of the principal items were as follows:

	1930	1931
Paving, except cement, per sq. yd.	$1.302	$1.252
Cement for paving, per sq. yd.	.622	.466

Net per sq. yd., slab only	$1.824	$1.718
Grading excavation per cu. yd., incl. overhaul	.296	.2486
Bridges, per lineal ft.	$181.70	$160.28
Gravel surfacing, per cu. yd.	1.003	0.837

The average cost per mile of concrete paving, 20 feet wide, dropped from $25,508 in 1930 to $22,920 in 1931. This includes shouldering, curbs, drains, and all miscellaneous items. The average cost of grading dropped from $10,621 per mile in 1930 to $8,608 in 1931. When right-of-way, culverts, bridges and miscellaneous structures are included, the average per mile was $17,396 in 1930 and $14,972 in 1931.

The drop in gravel costs is greater than the cost per yard would indicate, since the average haul increased from 4.22 miles in 1930 to 4.78 miles in 1931. The average cost per mile dropped from $1,602 in 1930 to $757 in 1931, partly due to lower prices and partly to a decrease from 1,598 cubic yards per mile in 1930 to an average application of 904 cubic yards on roads graded in 1931. Less gravel is used because paving or bituminous treatment now follows closer after the grading and graveling.

The average cost per mile of new bituminous treatment dropped from $1,590 in 1930 to $1,307 in 1931, and the average cost of retreatments from $793 in 1930 to $761 in 1931.

Improved machinery, keen competition between material producers, buying in larger quantities, and general business conditions combined to bring prices down, Mr. Babcock said. When business conditions return to normal, there may be some increase in prices, but more efficient machinery will probably keep costs down below the unit prices of 1930 and preceding years. We are not only getting needed improvements at low prices, but road work is furnishing employment to thousands of people who need it, he said. Investing money in good roads now will bring dividends for many decades.

J. C. Penney Company Earns $3.13 Per Share

Net earnings of the J. C. Penney company after all charges and taxes and after deductions for preferred stock dividends, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1931, totalled $7,718,590.38.

This was equivalent to $3.13 a share on the 2,468,861 outstanding shares of common stock, after allowing $1,194,966 for preferred stock dividends.

This compares with a net of $7,086,892.16 for 1930, equivalent to $2.85 per share on 2,466,908 shares of common stock outstanding at that time. Total sales for the year 1931 were $173,705,094.52 as compared with the total sales in 1930 of $192,943,765.42, a loss for the year of $19,238,670.90 or 9.97 per cent.

The total number of stores in operation at the start of 1931 was 1452 while the number in operation at the close of the year was 1459.

Inventories at the close of 1931 were carried at $36,332,947.41 after having been fully depreciated to meet current replacement costs. This inven-
